

Stuttgart Media University (HdM) protects documents with SECUTAG®

HOCHSCHULE DER MEDIEN

HdM, the Stuttgart Media University is known as a training post for media specialists far beyond the frontiers. The HdM has been proving itself always as precursor in the range of innovative communication performances.

Consequently, it was a logical process to remind its basic attitude toward innovation in another range and to show its colours in the subject of product protection.

The Stuttgart Media University realised the necessity as well as the importance of protecting its printing processes like documents and certificates in cooperation with Simons Druck. In the future all important documents, especially certificates will be raised on a forgery-proof level using SECUTAG®.

This unique protection affords a fast and efficient unambiguous verification of the originality of a document.

The importance of this measure for the Stuttgart Media University will quickly appear. In contrast, the macroeconomic damage caused by counterfeit documents, certificates, authentications, expertises, attestations, contracts, bills of lading etc. can just be suspected.

Conclusion: SECUTAG® is the innovative, invisible and reliable protection against counterfeit documents.
